Well it's now May; I hope some of you are getting ready to get back into diving. I have been out diving since the 1st weekend in March the water temp this last weekend was 45 degrees. Please check my calendar on the web site as I have lots of scheduled dives. Some of them are listed to the left, but more will be added. I hope some of my Divemasters will start to run some Weds and Sunday dives. Check below for a few specials I have for the month of May

Come dive with me:

Dale

There are a couple spots open on the June 26th trip & the Aug 7th trip. These dives will be out of Port Sanilac with depth less than 110ffw. Follow the links on the right for more details and what wrecks.

A quick update for all of you with Press Steel cylinder E9791. There has been an extension applied for and granted for these cylinder until Jan 31st 2015.

This will give you 4 more years on this cylinder.

Bad news is that Press Steel cylinder with the E10915

Will run out on Oct 31st 2012. No extension has been applied for.

Sea Level Scuba will be returning to Little Cayman Island in 2012: This trip has just been signed: details will soon be on our web site.

But here are some quick items:

$1695.00 for diver package including 17 dives:

$1145.00 for Non diver package:

Package includes: Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner daily and two drinks.

All taxes, transfers and tips are included in this price:

Airfare not included:

Check out my new gear page for some specials on Regulators, Dive light, & wetsuits.
